

ExpertSearch System Improvement

Steven Ma

For this project, I would like to implement a feature for simple quality of life changes by making the ExpertSearch web page auto-scroll results. That means that when the user reaches the bottom of the page, the page will automatically populate new results onto the end of it. This is a much smoother experience, in my opinion, than having to repeatedly click “Load more” for the results.